Additional Information Regarding the Amendment

Overview

The Amendment will have the effect of increasing the number of shares of Common Stock that the Company is authorized to issue from 500,000,000 shares to 2,500,000,000 shares.

Purpose

Our board of directors has determined that it is advisable and in the best interest of the Company to increase the number of authorized shares of Common Stock of the Company to have available additional authorized but unissued shares in an amount that is adequate to provide for the needs of the Company. Our board of directors has determined that it is advisable and in the best interest of the Company to increase the number of authorized shares of our Common Stock in order to ensure that the Company will satisfy its obligations under the existing convertible notes issued by the Company. We currently have 372,191,312 shares outstanding and 131,127,528 shares reserved for issuance on conversion of various outstanding securities. Since a lender is entitled to increase his reserves but has elected not to do so, there are actually no shares available for other corporate purposes and the Board does not consider this adequate for general corporate purposes. Most of our outstanding convertible securities have conversion rates based on formulas that fluctuate based on the market price of our common stock and the required reservations therefor may increase in the future if the market price for our common stock decreases. The Company would be required to issue additional shares of our Common Stock upon conversion of such convertible notes and, under certain of those convertible notes, the Company is required to have in reserve certain quantities of authorized but unissued shares of our Common Stock. Generally, with respect to the convertible notes issued by the Company, both the quantity of shares of our Common Stock that the Company would be required to issue upon conversion and the quantity of authorized but unissued shares of our Common Stock that the Company is required to have in reserve increases if the market price of our Common Stock decreases. The newly authorized shares of Common Stock would be available for issuance from time to time as determined by our board of directors for any proper purpose, which may include, without limitation, the issuance of shares in connection with financing or acquisition transactions and other corporate opportunities. We have no present plans for the issuance or reservation of additional shares of common stock other than ongoing private placements and the convertible notes referred to above.

The Company, in the ordinary course of business, considers various possible means and strategies to expand its business, which may include, among other things, possible acquisitions of complementary businesses and other businesses. At the present time, the Company has not entered into any definitive agreement with any person or entity that entails any contemplated merger, consolidation, acquisition or similar business transaction, and there are no assurances that the Company will enter into any such transaction. The increase in the number of authorized shares of Common Stock of the Company as described in this Information Statement is for the purpose of addressing the obligations under existing convertible notes issued by the Company and for other corporate purposes generally, as described in the preceding paragraph, rather for any specific contemplated transaction(s). However, we do not have any present plans or agreements for any other business which would require the issuance of any of the additional shares being authorized.

Certain Risks Associated with the Increase in Authorized Stock

An issuance of additional shares of our Common Stock could, under certain circumstances, have the effect of delaying or preventing a change in control of the Company by increasing the number of outstanding shares that are entitled to vote and by increasing the number of votes required to approve a change in control. The ability of our board of directors to issue additional shares of our Common Stock could discourage an attempt by a party to acquire control of the Company. Such issuances could therefore deprive stockholders of benefits that could result from such an attempt, such as the realization of a premium over the market price of the shares that such an attempt could cause. Moreover, the issuance of additional shares of our Common Stock to persons whose interests are aligned with that of our board of directors could make it more difficult to remove incumbent officers and directors from office, even if such change were to be favorable to stockholders generally. Although the Amendment could, under certain circumstances, have an anti-takeover effect, the Amendment was neither proposed nor approved in response to any effort of which we are aware to obtain or change control of the Company, nor is it part of a plan by management to recommend a series of similar actions having an anti-takeover effect.
